

Cruisin' HAPPENINGS

by Andy Sackett

Each year I make a feeble attempt at a Christmas poem for Show and Cruise News and here is the 2017 edition. For a complete copy of all the previous poems send in 14 books of Green Stamps!

*Twas the night before Christmas
And all around town
The streets were quiet,
Not even a sound.*

*But out in the garages
You could see the light,
Of Hot Rodders working
To get things just right.*

*Working on their car
That is their Joy and Pride
So they can enjoy the summer
In their classic ride.*

*Buying the parts
To make their cars cool
Whether it be for speed
Or to make it Ol S'cool.*

*If you were good
For Santa to see,
You might just find
Those parts under the tree.*

*But no matter what Come April or May
The garage doors will open
And it's let's go and play.*

*So whether your building
Or your ride's just put away,
Be safe this Holiday
So you can be ready to play!*

Merry Christmas and Happy New Year
From Show and Cruise News Magazine and The Cavalcade of Cars